

Bethanie: Bethany and Birthday

- After being educated at home through 8th grade, we decided in the Spring that we hoped to send Bethanie to the local mission school for 9th grade. Thanks to generous donations, we were able to follow through on this. All we had to do was mention this need one time in an email update and the need was met... through much generosity and God's grace. Thank you so much. The picture on the right is of Bethanie on her first day of school at Morrison Academy Bethany Campus.
- On August 20, Bethanie turned 14. We are so proud of her for learning to make (and making!) wise choices and she is enjoying her increasing freedoms. She's a great big sister and willing to help babysit her siblings when mom and dad need to go out for a while even though she has a very heavy school load. She loves God and keeps her priorities straight.
- She's still dancing and in fact, she actually had a dance performance the day after her birthday. Her dance classes and schedule will be hanging after this latest performance, but she still loves both ballet and traditional Chinese dance.

Other News

- On Sept 19, I (Scott) will (Lord willing) fly to Manila, Philippines to attend a course called Jonathan Training. At the end of the 2 week course, we should have crafted a "Strategic Master Plan" for establishing a Church Planting Movement in Taiwan. I'm attending with Peter Bennett and Chad Edwards, co-workers from other teams in Taipei. Although we are all on separate teams, we share a common vision and look forward to this time of training, planning, and partnership.
- I get back from Jonathan Training on October 2 and then the next day, our entire family will travel to the southernmost tip of Taiwan to the town of Kenting and join a retreat planned (and mostly paid by) Global REST. Team Expansion missionaries from all over Taiwan and some other Asian countries will also attend and we look forward to it, especially after being apart for 2 weeks.
- In recent weeks, we've been reminded of the importance of our family to ministry. In some respects, our family itself is the most noticeable aspect of ministry and although we feel like we live like fish in an aquarium, we are grateful God helps us help others as we try to model a godly family.

A Note from Team Expansion's President—Doug Lucas

The hundreds of missionaries who serve full-time with Team Expansion all have one vision in common: They are transforming communities by planting churches among the unreached. They help abused children, battered mothers, and disadvantaged families. They place AIDs orphans in homes with loving caregivers, then track their progress to make sure everything goes smoothly. They drill wells for fresh water then turn around and tell about Living Water. They teach sanitation and hygiene, help villagers care for horses, and outfit impoverished families with goat herds. They provide disaster relief, education, leadership training, and job enrichment. And all the while, they not only share about the Good News of Jesus Christ, they also seek to initiate and nurture church-planting movements. Why? Because the church can and will be present over the long haul, giving hope and help to each community. They carry out all these acts of kindness in places where people least know about Jesus Christ. Because that's Team Expansion's knitting. That's what Team Expansion does. And because you help make it happen, that's what you do too. Thank you for lifting up the fallen. Thank you for your gift to God through Team Expansion.
